I taught her youngest daughter how to read last year. Every time I saw her she was smiling and so loved her children. She was responsive and involved with her children. She appreciated the teachers that taught her children, and I appreciated that. She will be missed and was taken way too soon.

Never have you seen a brighter smile- a truly good human being and she touched so many lives. A young woman taken too early in life. We will miss her tremendously and know that she is an angel in heaven.
