Haley, it's me again. You're in the forefront of my mind again. The world takes the good ones too soon. God, I'm struggling so much but you're one of my best memories, you were such a great friend. I can't believe it's been this much time. Forever 14. I love you so much. I will NEVER ever forget about you as long as I live. Prayers for your family. I've struggled with homelessness, I have had so many quiet days without a family to go to, but I don't want to give up because it means erasing a part of you. I'll make it for the both of us I promise.

Hayley became such a positive online influence on me. We became fairly close; her presence always lifting me even in my worst experiences. Though she was younger than me; I idolised her as if she had a legacy; one could argue that she did create a legacy. All she ever did was endlessly give her love to those in need- making people laugh with adorable photos of her dog, Bella, and sending uplifting animal memes. I will always love you, my angel. You will always fly high now.

Hayley was my best friend online. She always made sure I was feeling good, checking up on me from time to time. She always wanted to give but never receive, she's such an amazing and caring person. She helped countless of people online with their problems and insecurities and never giving up hope in them. She would always try to cheer everyone up with animal memes, including her bird disco. I really hope that her family knows how much she changed everyones lives for the better. I miss her so much...

I didn't know her for long, matter a fact somebody who knew her through a virtual screen. But I did know her as a good friend, and this loss will never leave my mind. This kid is amazing, never failed to astonish me. She was a fantastic friend, and so much more. Fly high kiddo. As I like to say and believe, there is no goodbyes only see ya later.

Hayley was like a mom to me. She would always look out for me and make sure I'm doing okay. I'd always try to send her a bird meme every day. Every time I see a bird, especially a cockatiel, I will be reminded of her and how wonderful she is. She has always been so strong. Even in the hardest of times she could put a smile on anyone's face. I hope she is watching over us all. Hayley is such a dear friend and I'm going to miss her so much. My love goes to the family and those who are close to her.
